When Doctors Start Tilting the Lid, They Take Big Responsibility

IN a recent decision, Federal Judge Bourquin at Helena, Mont., held unconstitutional that portion of the Volstead act limiting the amount of alcoholic liquor that may be prescribed by a physician.

It is to be hoped that his decision is not sustained by the higher court.

Dr. William Allen Pusey, president of the American Medical association in discussing the decision is credited with making the following statement: "Medicine is a science, and if alcohol is a medicine it is illogical for a law-making body to say how it shall be used."

* * *

WE acknowledge the fact that the practice of medicine is a profession and a very honorable one, but there are men in the profession who are far from ethical and if there should be no legal restrictions placed on the amount of liquor allowed on physicians' prescriptions the abuse will be such as to cause the liquor enforcement law to be a joke and impossible of enforcing.

* * *

IF the medical profession will recommend that liquor be not accepted by their profession as a medicine it will aid in assisting the enforcement of the law and do more for humanity in general than by endeavoring to have the lid tilted on the liquor traffic throughout the country.

* * *

THAT there are members of the medical profession who are not in sympathy with the laws enacted for the purpose of controlling the use of intoxicating liquor and narcotics was substantiated yesterday in an address made before the Rotary club to Burbank.

Mr. Barrett, a millionaire oil man, who had been a drug addict himself, was the speaker. In his address he made the following statement:

"I know a number of doctors in Los Angeles who have as high as 100 to 125 individual hypodermic needles for the patients and make as high as $500 and $600 per day selling dope."

The abuse of the power of money is the root of the evil. As long as there are unscrupulous and unethical men in the profession of medicine, both of these evils will have to be curbed by the means of restrictive laws.

* * *

THE elusive dog question was given the right of way by the city council last evening.

In fact the whole meeting was taken up in the consideration of this much mooted question.

Verbal pyrotechnics filled the atmosphere during the meeting. Order was finally secured from chaos and a definite step taken.

A committee of seven will be appointed by the mayor, six being chosen from the citizens most interested, the seventh member being the city attorney.

We are glad to note that the council did not take the step proposed of repealing the old ordinance and not have any restrictive law.

With a fair-minded committee an ordinance possible of enforcement will without doubt be drafted and everybody will be satisfied.

C. OF C. REPRESENTED AT OWENSMOUTH

MONTROSE LINE CARS ORDERED

Rolling Stock for Glendale Electric Service Selected

$36,000 INVESTMENT

Three Passenger Vehicles to Come From St. Louis

An order was placed, Tuesday, by the Glendale-Montrose Railway company with the American Car company of St. Louis, Mo., for the three passenger cars necessary for the operation of the Glendale avenue line, when electrified, according to a statement made my P. L. Hatch, local manager of the Glendale-Montrose line this morning.

The cars selected, said Mr. Hatch, are modern in every way, and will serve to give the people who will patronize the line, the best possible service. Shipment will be made within three months.

The cars in question are capable of seating 53 people each, and each will cost about $12,000. The cars were ordered by telegram, a letter containing the details of the cars being dispatched shortly after the telegram was sent.

Negotiations for the purpose of a freight locomotive for use on this line have already been started by the Glendale-Montrose company, and at this time details of various engines are being considered. W. A. Mulligan, mechanical engineer for the company, will start east today or tomorrow for the purpose of looking over various locomotives that have been offered. Mr. Mulligan expects to remain in the east until the engine has been started westward.

The Glendale-Montrose company has instructed the Roy L. Kent company to use all possible speed in the completion of the plans for the office building and the power station that will be erected by this company on lot 7 on North Glendale avenue.

These buildings will cost about $15,000 and will be made of concrete. The office building will have green tile roof and will be along Spanish lines. It will contain a waiting room, a general office and at the rear of the building will be the private offices. The power station will be located directly behind the office building and will front on Howard street. It is expected that these buildings will be ready for construction in about three months.

The Union Pacific railway company has appropriated the money for the purchase of wire, poles, ties, etc., for the electrification of the Glendale avenue line, and these will be released immediately, according to Mr. Hatch.

"We will leave no stone unturned to have this line in operation at the earliest possible time. It should be running by January 1," said Mr. Hatch this morning. "Since the permit was granted by the Los Angeles council we have worked night and day. We want the people of Glendale to know that we are just as anxious to have this line in operation as they are. It will be our aim to afford the local patrons the very finest service possible."

Order of Sciots to Be Host to Master Masons at Smoker

Glendale Pyramid No. 39, Ancient Egyptian Order of Sciots, will entertain all Master Masons residing in San Fernando Valley at a smoker and program to be given on Friday, July 20, at 7:30 o'clock in the Odd Fellows hall, corner of West Broadway and Orange street. The committee in charge assures those attending that there will be plenty of good music, entertainment, smokes and surprises. All that it will cost will be a Blue Lodge receipt.

The program will include several good speakers, several professional acts, music by the recently organized Sciots orchestra and band, of which Sciot Kelly and R. D. Crawford are directors.

Scribe Dick Kinley is busy getting invitations out to the various Masonic lodges of San Fernando valley. The Glendale Sciots have been organized only six weeks and already have a membership of 166. Further details of the meeting will be announced later.

MEXICAN SNEAKS ROB BOOK STORE

Mexican sneak thieves robbed the Glendale Book Store of $65 in cash and several checks, yesterday afternoon, while C. H. Bott the proprietor, was busy with a customer.

According to the police, Mr. Bott had been counting the money when he was called to the front of the store by a customer. Two Mexicans were loitering in the rear.

When he returned to the money which he had placed under a book, he found it was missing.

ALL MEMBERS OF C. OF C. URGED TO ATTEND BANQUET

In correction of misunderstandings which seem to exist in the community, President Jesse Smith of the chamber of commerce states that the dinner to be given complimentary by the chamber of commerce Friday night is for all members of the organization, but new members will be guests of honor. Mr. Smith is hoping many old members will be on hand to greet and welcome the new ones. Reservations will close Thursday noon, but there will be no charge for the dinner which will be served at 6:30.

SEVEN APPOINTED TO HANDLE DOG PROBLEM

Three Owners and as Many Opponents on Committee

The appointment of a committee of seven to endeavor to solve the dog question for Glendale was authorized by the Glendale city council Tuesday night. This committee will consist of three members from the Dog Protective association of Glendale and three local residents who are opposed to the dogs of the city being permitted to run at large, City Attorney Ray Morrow to constitute the seventh member of the committee. The appointment is to be made by Mayor Robinson.

The purpose of this committee will be to revise the present ordinance which regulates the keeping of dogs in Glendale, the idea being to remodel it if possible so that it will be agreeable to all of the residents of the city. No date for the meeting of this committee was set at last night's meeting.

The decision to appoint this committee was reached after two hours of wrangling on the part of those interested in this ordinance. Last night's meeting was called for the express purpose of considering the proposed ordinance which was offered by the Dog Protective association. The longer the discussion was continued the farther those present were from reaching a satisfactory solution. Everything from vaccination to dog collars was discussed.

A lull in the fireworks occurred when Councilman Kimlin moved that the council eliminate the proposed humane animal commission feature from the proposed ordinance. This was seconded by Councilman Davis and passed.

Edwin E. Kulp, who was chief spokesman for the Dog Protective association, stated that with the commission feature removed there was nothing to the ordinance offered by his association left to consider.

Councilman Horn then moved that the present dog ordinance of the city be taken up and considered section by section. Councilman Davis seconded this motion, and the vote was unanimously in favor of this procedure.

Councilman Horn then read section 1 of the ordinance and Councilman Davis, who at this stage took the chair, Mayor Robinson being obliged to leave, asked for discussion of this section.

This request was a signal for more pyrotechnics, in which all hands reveled. A half hour of cross-fire was enjoyed when Councilman Kimlin moved that the committee, as finally decided upon, be appointed.

The impression given by the council was that the ordinance that is decided upon by this committee will be adopted by the council.

C. L. Brinkman of 1540 South San Fernando road suggested that the council prepare an ordinance that it believes is fair and put it through. Councilman Horn stated that the idea of calling in outsiders to prepare the ordinance was to get a law that will be satisfactory to all and that the appointing of the committee is the only way that he knew of securing this end.

BIG RESERVATION FOR C. OF C. MEET

Secretary Sanders reports that more than 100 members have made reservations for the dinner to be given Friday night by the local chamber of commerce in honor of new members.

He states that the prime purpose of the meeting is not the entertainment of these new members but instead to demonstrate how the chamber functions through its standing and other committees and its board of directors, which will hold a regular session following the dinner. At that time reports will be presented by the publicity committee, of which W. L. Twining is chairman; city planning committee, headed by Mr. Butts; sewerage committee, by City Manager Reeves; entertainment committee, of which Ralph Brown is chairman; community loyalty committee, of which J. C. Smith is head; community chest committee, headed by Dr. Newton, and depot committee, of which George Bentley is chairman.

SCHOOL GROUNDS PROVE POPULAR

Cerritos and High Programs of Games Gains Much Support

Glendale's playgrounds at the Central avenue, Cerritos avenue and high school grounds are popular places for the young people of the city during the summer. Programs of baseball, golf, tennis, quoits, croquet, stories, stunts, etc., are being worked out by the directors in charge.

A six-hole golf course has been arranged at the Cerritos avenue grounds and the boys and girls are greatly enjoying the sport. Mr. Butterfield is laying out a course on the high school grounds. People who have old golf sticks that can be repaired for use are asked to get in touch with R. E. Tucker, local community service executive, at Glendale 3070.

At 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon the high school playground team will play a game of baseball with the Cerritos avenue team at Cerritos. This afternoon a checker tournament is under way at the Central avenue grounds.

MIKE "BURMAN" IS FRIEND BERMAN

A mistake occurred in Tuesday's edition of the Glendale Press in the story headed, "Mike Burman is Much Wanted Man."

Instead of "Mike Burman" it should have been "S. Berman," who is in the tailoring business on South Brand boulevard. "Mike" is simply a nick name for Mr. Berman, but practically all his friends know him by that name. Mike served notice on everybody he was taking a vacation. He is still taking it.

Disabled Veterans Thank Tuesday Club

Mrs. E. W. W. Hayward, program chairman of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, is in receipt of a letter from Mrs. Gertrude Harrison Stamm, recreational director at the American Red Cross Sawtelle annex for disabled veterans of the World War, expressing the great pleasure of the boys for the program given and hospitality extended by the club members on July 13. The disabled veterans were guests of the club on that day.

Burned Out Fuse Causes Police Call

Oh, you pesky fuse!

Glendale residents living at 446 Patterson called the police at 11 o'clock Tuesday night and stated that someone had cut the wires of the lighting system of that home and that the house had been burglarized.

"Send an officer at once," stated the person who was telephoning.

Officer Kerns was dispatched to the scene of the alleged crime, and after he had made a round of the property he located the trouble.

A lighting fuse had burned out.

GLENDALE HAS OWN NATURAL OPEN THEATRE

Phil Fenton, Poet of Casa Verdugo, Tells of Its Discovery

The desire of numerous Glendalians for an amphitheatre in the north hills has been voiced at various times and various sites have been suggested, but the project of actually securing such an addition to the attractions of this city is yet in its infancy.

Following is an article written by Phil Felton, the poet of Casa Verdugo, in which he makes a suggestion holding such merit that the music committee of the Community Service department will make an investigation and possibly formulate plans to carry out Mr. Felton's suggestion. Director Tucker of the Community Service is investigating.

Mr. Felton states that he has found a spot about 200 feet east of the present Casa Verdugo cafe where there is a natural amphitheatre and acoustics to equal those in any other outdoor theatre yet established. The possibility of having a community sing at this location will be taken up by the Community Service department under R. Tucker, and all other organizations of the city are invited to join in the plans, should the site prove favorable. The communication from Mr. Felton will be found on an inside page today.

BAD CHECKS AND HONEYMOONS TANGLE

CHICAGO, July 18.—Harry G. Lewis and Tenny Dennison, charged separately with passing bad checks to the amounts of $50,000 and $2,000 respectively, were in jail here today awaiting removal to Los Angeles from which they started on honeymoons financed by spurious paper, according to department of justice operators, who caused their arrest. Their disillusioned brides of a few weeks will accompany them, police said.

Lewis, who police said is a deserter from the Columbus, Ohio, barracks, posed as a dancer at Long Beach, California, where he was married two weeks ago. Detectives said he obtained more than $50,000 from government checks fraudulently cashed. Dennison, a former artillery officer, was married last December in Kentucky and financed a trip to Los Angeles and return to this city with bad checks he cashed on the strength of the rank he no longer held.

W. E. HEWITT IS CALLED TO HOME

W. E. Hewitt received a telegram Tuesday which called him to the bedside of his father, who is seriously ill in Vancouver, B. C. He will be much missed in connection with chamber of commerce activities.

Smith, music; Miss Ruth Ryan, refreshments; Miss Ruth Spafford, punch.

On account of the large attendance at the first dancing party given, this party will be limited to those who wish to be guests of Community Service for the evening. They may obtain guest cards by getting in touch with Community Service headquarters in the Chamber of Commerce building. Those who have signed up may secure admittance cards at the door.

An admission charge of 25c per person will be made to defray the expense of the five-piece orchestra that will furnish music for dancing.

BASEBALL SCHEDULES ARE REARRANGED

There was postponement of the baseball game scheduled to be pulled off Tuesday night under the Community Service program between the American Legion and the Christian Church teams. It will be announced later.

In the game played Monday night between the Night School representatives and the Standard Oil team, the Night School lost for the first time with a score of 12 to 20. This leaves a trio of teams — Night School, Newton Electric, and City Employes, who have each lost one game, and the competition for the championship is likely to be keen. The schedule closes August 3.

Spanish American War Veterans to Meet This Evening

TWO INJURED IN WRECK ON WASH BRIDGE

Steam From Radiator Blinds Driver Who Crashes Into Cars

SAVES CHILD'S LIFE

Hits One Machine Which Strikes Another at the Louise Street Crossing

Francis Fleming, aged 8, 1011 South Catalina street, and John Haney, aged 18, 1003 South Dewey street, both of Los Angeles, were injured, and a truck and two automobiles were damaged in an accident that occurred at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the bridge that crosses the wash at Louise street.

Haney, who was scalded about the arms and legs by the escaping steam of the radiator, was treated at the drug store at Doran and Brand by Dr. E. T. Remming, 410 Lawson building, while Francis Fleming, who was also scalded, was taken to the Glendale Sanitarium. Both were getting along nicely at last reports.

The truck that was driven by Haney blew off the radiator cap and the steam from the overheated motor enveloped both Haney and the lad, who was riding with him. Haney, in an effort to save the lad from injury, attempted to drive the truck with one hand and at the same time hold the boy so that the steam could not scald him. In doing so Haney, who was blinded by the steam, drove his truck into the rear of the automobile belonging to Mrs. Mary Jane Munding, 427 South Verdugo road, which was standing at the curbing, and this car in turn crashed into the automobile belonging to William A. McLeod, 816 North Louise street.

EAST GLENDALE TO HAVE POSTOFFICE SURE

Contract or Branch Facilities to Be Afforded Very Soon

A branch or contract postoffice for the eastern business section of Glendale is assured.

News leaked out this morning that the bid of C. F. Stuart, proprietor of the Glendale Pharmacy, corner Glendale avenue and Broadway, had been accepted by the postoffice department. When notified of this fact this morning, Mr. Stuart refused the offer which was made by the postmaster through Assistant Postmaster Hallett. Mr. Stuart stated that his refusal was based on the belief that if he established the contract office the very act might interfere with the placing in the eastern section of the city a branch office, an improvement which, an unconfirmed rumor states, may be established in that section within a few months.

It is generally known that C. W. Ingledue, a large property owner on the east side of town, has put in a bid, along with several others, for a branch office. Others from the east side may have submitted similar bids.

When seen this morning Postmaster Jackson refused to comment on the establishment of either a contract or a branch office in the east side, except to say that the department decided to establish a contract office on the east side of Glendale, but the place it will be located has not been decided upon.

BOY WILL WALK WHILE THIEF RIDES

A bicycle belonging to George H. Bentley, 527 North Orange street, was stolen from that place Tuesday afternoon. It has not yet been located.

NEW DORAN SCHOOL BIDS ARE AWARDED

Elmer Elliott Is Successful With the General Contract

TOTAL OF $27,085

Three Additional Teachers Are Elected; High Trustees' Letter

Items of business transacted at the meeting of the Board of Education Tuesday night were the opening of bids for the Doran street school and awarding of general contract to Elmer Elliott; the election of three new teachers,; and the appointment of Miss Annie McIntyre, principal of the Central avenue school, to assist in working out a course of study for the city school system for the coming year.

Mr. Elliott's bid for the general contract was $27,085, and this was accepted with alternate No. 1 of $295 for state blackboards. Everything was included in it except heating, and for that the board accepted the bid of the Williams Radiator company for $969, or $1124 for increased radiation. The permit for this building will probably be issued very soon.

Other bids for the general contract were Christ Thoren, $28,570; W. S. May, $29,910; H. E. Tabor, $30,500.

H. Fitzpatrick of Los) Angeles, a graduate of the Santa Barbara Normal, and also of the Los Angeles Normal, was elected for a position in one of the intermediate schools. He is experienced in manual training, playground, commercial and regular grade work.

Marian E. Alward of 627 North Geneva, Glendale, was elected for upper grade work. She is a graduate of the Detroit Teachers' College and taught in the Detroit elementary schools for about six years.

Miss Ruth M. Tate of El Monte, Calif., was elected for first grade work. She is a graduate of the Los Angeles Normal, and is experienced as a teacher in several grades.

A communication was read from high school trustees relative to the disposition of bungalow class rooms, but it called for no action.

Two representatives of the Builders' Exchange appeared before the board to renew a request for the filing in the office of the organization of plans and specifications for school buildings, that members may have opportunity to figure on them. As but one contract for a school building remains to be let, viz., that of Cerritos, the board instructed Superintendent White to ask the architect of the building, Arthur Lindley, to prepare the copies of plans and specifications requested.

A letter was read from the office of the county counsel relative to releasing May & Hellman from the contract for the Pacific avenue school, and the holding of bidders' bond, but as it contained no definite ruling action was postponed until Superintendent White could personally confer with the county counsel.

As the property which the board is purchasing from the Misses Myers to be added to the Magnolia campus includes 10 feet to be dedicated to the city for street purposes, the board voted to have the entire transaction included in the escrow

Further discussion was had relative to land purchases and Superintendent White and his committee were requested to secure appraisements.

The board voted to purchase 12 new typewriters and to exchange six others.

Superintendent White was authorized to employ Miss Annie McIntyre to co-ordinate reports of committees of teachers and principals that were appointed last spring to work out courses of study for elementary schools in the subjects assigned each committee, using as a basis the minimum course of study worked out by superintendents, principals and teachers of Southern California with Dr. Ernest Moore. These committee reports having been placed in the hands of Superintendent White, they will be turned over to Miss McIntyre who will prepare from the recommendations a course of study as a guide for teachers in the Glendale elementary schools. Heretofore, all the city schools except the intermediates, have used, with but little modification, the course of study formulated by the Board of Education of Los Angeles county.

GLENDALE KNIGHTS TO SEE HARDING

Will Take Part in Ceremony at Hollywood Bowl on August 2

ATTENDANCE URGED

Plans Being Made to Decorate City in Honor of Distinguished Visitors

BY HORACE J. MOCK

Dr. Roy V. Hogue, eminent commander of Glendale Commandery, and the entire commandery will take part and have a band representing Glendale at Hollywood on August 2.

President Harding will be in Hollywood in the afternoon and will take a conspicuous part in the public ceremony at the Hollywood Bowl.

On that date Marion Commandery, No. 36, Knights Templar, of Marion, Ohio, of which organization the President is a distinguished member, will present to Hollywood Commandery No. 56, Knights Templar, what is known as the International Traveling Beausant.

The occasion will be made memorable, not only to the Masonic fraternity, but to the entire southland. It will be one of the most important events in the history of Masonry on the Pacific Coast; because one of the greatest honors that can fall to a Commandery of Knights Templar will be conferred upon the Hollywood Commandery, and for the further reason that the chief executive of the United States will honor the event with his personal appearance and direct participation in the ceremonies incident to the transfer of the emblematic banner.

It now is indicated that there will be brought together in Hollywood at that time the most distinguished assemblage of men high in the ranks of Templarism in California and other states, as well as one of the greatest gatherings of Sir Knights ever seen in Southern California, if not in the entire state.

Officers of the Grand Commandery have given assurances that the Grand Commandery will participate and help in every way to make the event as great a success as possible. General orders will be issued by the Grand Commandery requesting and urging every Commandery in the state to participate.

All the Commanderies of Southern California, and many of the northern organizations will be present in full Templar uniform with their colors and bands and will participate in the parade and in the ceremonies at the Bowl. The long line of white plumed knights will make an imposing parade.

Hollywood will be appropriately decorated for the occasion and as a tribute to the President. Plans now are under way for an elaborate scheme of decoration, both for the streets and for the Bowl, with the national colors predominating.

The escort which will accompany the Beausant from Marion, Ohio, will number 30, including the officers and the President's escort. In addition, the Eminent Prior of the Preceptor of Toronto, Canada, which was the first Templar body to receive the Beausant, will accompany the party, as will officers of the Grand Commandery of Ohio and other states, making a party of about 50.

Headquarters of the committee in charge of arrangements for the coming event will be at the new Masonic Temple in Hollywood where information as to any particular feature of the event may be obtained. Details of the day's program will be announced from time to time through the press. Commander James W. Wilson of Hollywood Commandery with his official staff and members of the various committees charged with the various details of arrangements are hard at work preparing for the great day.

The International Traveling Beausant already has an interesting history, although but fairly started on its pilgrimage around the globe. As it is to be placed in the temporary custody of one Commandery in each Grand jurisdiction of Knights Templar throughout the world, it may take half a century to complete the journey.

The idea of sending the banner around the world was conceived by Eminent Sir John A. Cowan, Registrar of Cyrene Commandery, No. 29, of Toronto, Canada, and was consecrated to its world-wide pilgrimage by the Grand Priory of Canada. Cyrene Commandery, the first to have it in charge, delivered the Beausant into the custody of Huge de Paynes Commandery of Buffalo, N. Y., which, in turn, gave it into the keeping of St. John's Commandery of Philadelphia.

On November 24, 1922, St. John's Commandery, with an escort of over 300 swords and a band, made a pilgrimage to Washington, D. C., and with appropriate ceremonies entrusted it to the keeping of Columbia Commandery No. 2, of that city.

The Washington Commandery, with an escore of 200 Sir Knights, transferred the Beausant to Marion Commandery No. 36, which proudly claims the President of the nation as a frater.

Official duties at the national capital prevented the President being present when his Commandery received the banner, and his first direct participation in ceremonies incident to the pilgrimage of the Beausant will be when the Marion Commandery delivers it into the hands of the Hollywood Commandery, thus giving added distinction and greater historical interest to its coming to the golden west. The President is expected personally to present the Beausant to Hollywood Commandery.

The Grand Commandery of California will honor the occasion further by convening a grand concave in Hollywood on August 2 and by participation in the eventful ceremony.

The Beausant is a silken banner, 2½ feet wide by 3½ feet in length, the upper half of which has a black field and the lower half a white field in ritualistic significance of the Beausant, which is known to all Knights Templar. It is beautifully adorned on both the upper and lower fields. It is suspended from a staff surmounted by a triangular ornament bearing on each of its three sides, emblems of Cyrene Preceptory.

Beneath the staff is a series of flat, gold rings, one of which is added by each Commandery having the Beausant in custody, and upon which is inscribed the name of the Commandery, the Grand jurisdiction it represents, the date of transfer and to whom transferred.

A beautifully engrossod record book accompanies the banner so that when the pilgrimage is completed its complete history will have been written.

What Our Folks Are Doing

C. W. Ingledue has just returned from the Palisades at Santa Monica, where he has been attending an institute.

Attorney George King of Glendale and James Crisman of 121 South Orange street enjoyed a week-end trip to Tia Juana.

Mrs. L. D. Johnson and son and daughter Florence of Riverside were recent guests of Mrs. B. L. Sutton of 534 East Windsor road.

L. G. Macomber, traffic commissioner of the Toledo Chamber of Commerce of Toledo, Ohio, and wife are visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Caldwell of 819 North Central avenue.

Mrs. C. H. Fellows of 332 Ethel street was pleasantly surprised last week by an unexpected visit from a brother whom she had not seen for fifteen years, T. K. Scott of the state of Washington, who, with his wife, are visiting in Glendale and are contemplating locating here. Mrs. Fellows entertained with a dinner party Friday night, at which the guests were also Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Scott, Mrs. Harriett Nickerson and daughter Jean and son Billy Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Yeoman of 113 North Orange street have moved to 601 North Jackson street.

Ray Bentley and family of 1361 North Columbus avenue have returned from Catalina Island where they spent the past week.

Mr. J. L. Drake of Decatur, Ill., who has been visiting his daughter, Mrs. Baer, 404 West Park, left yesterday for a trip through Yellowstone park.

Harold Betz, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Betz of North Kenwood, who is a student in the Pasadena Military Academy, is attending an 8-weeks' summer school of the academy at a camp at Twin Lakes, about four miles from Mammoth Lake, and is having a very interesting time. It is so cold, he writes, that he has to wear two flannel shirts by day and two sweaters at night. While it is a camp with cabins, the boys sleep out of doors, in sleeping bags, and two of them had to shovel away snow one evening before making their beds. In the party are 19 students, four teachers, two cooks, two helpers and a doctor. Part of the day is devoted to fishing and hiking, the rest to study. They get mail two or three times a week from Bishop via Mammoth.

PRESBYTERIANS PREPARE FOR BIG WORK

Extension of All Departments Planned for the New Quarters

As the Glendale Presbyterian church nears completion plans are being made to extend and develop all departments and branches of the work. The quarters in the old church building have been very inadequate in many ways for several years past. Yet in spite of lack of space and equipment the growth has been most gratifying in every way. During the past two years there has been nearly a 20 per cent increase annually in the membership of the congregation.

It is expected that the new church will be formally dedicated on the 18th day of November, 1923. Plans have been under way for a long time to make this a memorable occasion. The meetings subsequent to dedication of the church will last for several weeks, possibly a month. Believing that the best is none too good for Glendale the best speakers available will be secured and it has been whispered that there is just a bare possibility of securing that prince of Presbyterian elders, Hon. William Jennings Bryan for a series of addresses in connection with the dedicatory services.

Through the years Bible conferences have held an outstanding place in the life of this church. Many notable men have appeared on the platform here in these Bible conferences. Among them have been Dr. Cortland Myers of Boston, Dr. A. C. Dixon of London, Eng., Rev. Robert C. McQuilkin of Philadelphia, and many others. These conferences have been held annually and sometimes semi-annually in the past. These Bible conferences will be continued under the leadership of the very best and strongest men available. The next conference will be built up around Dr. William Evans of Chicago and will be from April 6 to 20, 1924

The evangelistic note has been most prominent in all the services and work of the church in the past. So true has this been that there is scarcely a week when accessions are not reported. This congregation has always united heartily in any union evangelistic movement among the churches of Glendale.

At more or less frequent intervals evangelistic services have been held by this congregation alone. The congregation has been conservative in its theological belief and has adhered closely to the simple fundamental teachings of the Bible. That this teaching needed and desired is evidenced by the fact that capacity audiences are the rule and this congregation has grown in membership until it has become widely known that its evangelistic effort is both intensive and extensive.

The men's work is carefully organized under the leadership of W. A. Horn in the Men's Bible class and George F. Snyder in the mens Brotherhood. The Bible class meets weekly in the city hall with Rev. Keith L. Brooks, of the Los Angeles Bible Institute, as its capable and acceptable teacher. Plans for the coming year are so far reaching that they will challenge the finest effort and faith of every man in the congregation and community.

The Sunday school work is well organized with H. L. Finlay as superintendent and Howard L. Brown as assistant. In three years the school has doubled in size. In the new church there will be space and equipment for a school of over 2000 pupils. Plans are now well under way to organize the work still more effectively and efficiently, as it enters the new church. Each department will meet separately, in its own well appointed quarters, and will have its own officers. There will be one superintendent, and one secretary for the entire school, each working closely with the superintendents and secretaries of the various departments. When the new church is completed it will contain one of the finest Sunday school plants in Southern California.

The leaders and officers of the church are spending much time in preparation for the educational work which will be carried on. Believing that the public schools have signally failed in teaching morals and religion, classes will be formed which will give distinctively religious instruction. These classes will be held daily, under the best teachers available, and will be open to all the children of the community.

As the need increases the number of these classes will be increased. A secretary of Christian education has been secured in the person of Mrs. Lydia M. Haystead, who will devote her full time to this work. Considerable impetus was given to this form of Christian education by the last legislature which passed a law authorizing public schools to give full credit for studies carried on by churches and to arrange the time of pupils so that they may attend these classes in the various churches. The possibilities of this work are almost staggering. There is a large and growing demand for such classes and when the way opens they will be most successful.

The entire membership is looking forward with great interest to the time when they may take part in these activities and the enlarged work of the church. With the increased facilities for service and growth there would seem to be no reason why the church should not soon become one of the largest and most active in Southern California.

PLASTERING BEGINS AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Plastering has been completed on the west wing or Sunday school portion of the new Presbyterian church at Harvard and Louise and the woodwork has been placed. It is expected this portion will be ready for use by the first of September, but that the main auditorium will not be completed and ready before Thanksgiving.

Rev. Louis Tinning, assistant pastor and wife, are taking a months vacation and expect to spend the major portion of it in the mountains. Dr. Edmonds will take his outing after Mr. Tinning returns.

PRESBYTERIAN LADIES ATTEND PARK PICNIC

Sixty or more members of the Ladies' Aid of the Glendale Presbyterian church attended the annual picnic of the organization held in picnic grove of the Newport company at Verdugo Woodlands Tuesday. The luncheon served at midday in charge of Mrs. George Loren, was followed by a program arranged by Mrs. M. P. Harrison, its general theme being "Stewardship," Miss Eyerick giving a reading with that title. Mrse. A. D. Smith gave a general outline of Missionary magazines and an attempt was made to give a general survey of the home field. About 25 ladies responded with scripture quotations.

GIRLS' FRIENDLY HOLDS PICNIC DINNER

Members of the Girls' Friendly society of St. Mark's Episcopal church met Tuesday night at the home of Miss Grace Crampton, 325 West Burchett street, for a picnic dinner served at 6:45 o'clock. A short business session followed. The remainder of the evening was spent in music and games. There were seventeen members and associate members present.

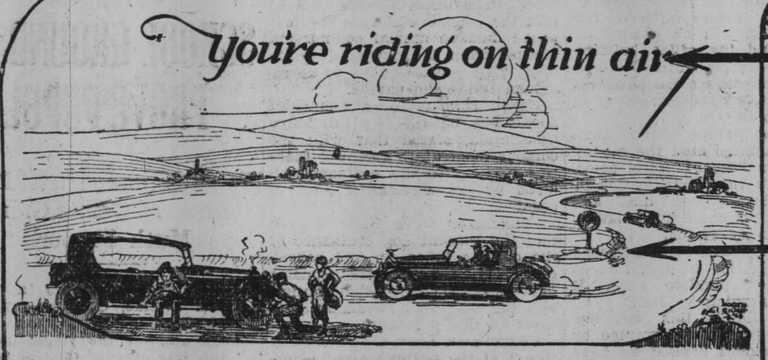
A SAVAGE TIRE "AD"—WITH COMMENTS — No. 9 OF A SERIES

Did you ever hear of our star salesman? He's so valuable to us that no one can take his place. He increases our sales immensely, he brings our dealers thousands of customers. Our entire organization guards over him carefully because he means more to our institution than any other single thing. We would be lost without him, yet we pay him no salary. Because of his handsome appearance we call him The Aristocrat. Who is he? He's our best tire. A big, stately-looking fellow, designed to be a leader among his kind. We are exceedingly proud of him and we mention him here as a sharp contrast to our "ad" below. Royal B. Lee, Advertising Manager.

You're riding on thin air



WHEN YOU BUY CHEAP TIRES

There is a cost below which no reputable tire can be made. In outward appearances cheap tires may look as good as more expensive ones, but the time and material required for a dependable article are not put into a product unless the manufacturer gets a just return for it you may be sure.

Nor does it follow that an expensive tire is always the best tire. Value really can be determined only by comparison. How does one product at a certain price compare with another product of a similar price? This is the positive, though sometimes slow and annoying, method of determining values.

An equally dependable, and much easier, method is to look into the integrity of the company making the product you are interested in. If it is a tire concern, is it reliable; is it building tires to a standard of quality, or price; what success have recent users had with the product?

On either basis we solicit your tire business. Compare our products with others—or investigate our institution. Your findings will react to our mutual benefit.

For Satisfaction, Quality or Price
Buy SAVAGE TIRES
FROM NEARBY DEALERS

Here we have what is commonly known as a "scare head". Together with the illustration and the subject of our message, this heading is intended to sound a warning.

Aren't you sorry for this poor fellow, changing tires out in the hot sun? And yet he may have brought all this hard work onto himself. Possibly he bought an inferior tire and thought he would "take a chance". Of course, any tire will give out sometime. Some tires are a good deal better than others, however, and the safest plan is to buy the most dependable product you can.

Our ad, thus far, has been directed at the fear instinct. The fear of consequences. This ad should help to promote caution in buying tires. If it does it will save many wasted dollars and considerable annoyance.

This is an appeal to common sense. We all know that we can't get something for nothing—but we sometimes forget and think we can.

About now you should be wondering what a really good tire looks like. Our little Indian character wants to show you one—it's what we call our Aristocrat Cord.

This is our oft repeated theme. Our entire advertising campaign centers around this thought. We feel that it expresses tersely what we have to offer.

A Western product may draw good dealers to it naturally. On the other hand, we like to think that these dealers are handling our product because they believe Savage Tires are the best tires for them to handle. Many of our dealers have been kind enough to tell us that this is so.

BARD SECTION ENJOYS SPORT DANCE

Held for the Benefit of "Twelfth Night" Performance

Members and friends of the Shakespeare section of the Tuesday Afternoon club turned out in good numbers Tuesday to attend a very enjoyable summer sport dance and card party at the clubhouse given for the purpose of securing funds for costuming the play, "Twelfth Night," to be presented by the section early during the club year.

Mrs. Walter Jones, curator of the section, was general chairman of the evening. Mrs. B. O. Holbrook assisted at the "500" room and Mrs. F. S. Card at bridge. Prizes for high score at "500" were awarded to Mrs. J. W. M. Burton and Wm. V. Anderson, first; Mrs. Wm. McMillan and Emil Kiefer, second; Miss Elsie Church and Daniel Campbell, consolation. At bridge the prizes were awarded to Mrs. Helen Campbell, S. A. Bennett, O. E. Forsyth and L. F. Schaffer, first; and Mrs. E. C. Layton and Miss Johnson Low, consolation.

Music for dancing was furnished by Kelly's seven-piece orchestra. A long list of patrons and patronesses assured the success of the party. During the evening refreshments were served.

Beams Are Home From Trip in East

C. F. Beam and wife of 610 East Colorado arrived at home Sunday from an extended visit in the east, with children and grandchildren. They left Glendale on May 18, going first to Indianapolis, then to other Indiana cities, Cleveland, Chicago and points in Michigan. Mr. Beam said that in Logansport, Ind., they playfully threatened to mob him for enticing so many good Indiana citizens to California. He said he had commission to buy lots for four of his friends in Glendale and for two in Los Angeles. He said it seemed that thousands of people from the states he visited are coming to California this summer and fall.

"WHAT WIVES WANT" AT THE T. D. & L. THURSDAY ONLY

The regular weekly vaudeville will mark the program of the T. D. & L. on Thursday, together with the Universal film, "What Wives Want," engaged for the evening only. A cast of stellar players will present "What Wives Want," the Universal all-star attraction. The story is an original one by Edward T. Lowe, Jr., and Perry Vekroff and was filmed under the direction of Jack Conway, whose most recent success was "Trimmed in Scarlet."

"What Wives Want" centers around a present-day marital problem that is largely responsible for the grinding of the divorce mill. It concerns a husband who is too busy making money to give his wife the attention that she thinks she deserves, and in consequence she looks elsewhere for this attention. A younger sister, who, strangely enough, acts as a mother to the elder, steps in at a critical moment and saves her from an act of folly but is herself crucified on the cross of suspicion.

Mrs. Charles Peckham sang "The Dawn of Love" from "The Firefly," accompanied by Mrs. Jack Rondu. A group of Irish stories were given by Mr. Flint. The annual children's society vaudeville of the Pearl Keller Studio will be given Thursday evening at the Glendale Theater and will be one of the most elaborate and beautiful performances that has ever been given by the school. New dances, new costumes, and advanced work will feature the program which will include as one of the big numbers: "Bridal Ballet" of toe dancers in which Cecilia Mae Fischer of Burbank will have the role of the bride.

Evelyn and Leona Hunt will be seen in a very fetching "California Poppy Dance."

One of the prettiest of the group dances will be a red, white and blue "Balloon Dance" put on by eighteen girls.

There will also be a beautiful Indian ballet by a group of twelve girls. The two Turner sisters will be seen in a tango in imitation of Mr. and Mrs. Rudoph Valentino.

Julia Pelley is doing a wonderful South Seas dance.

The baby class will be presented in a "Bluebird Dance," and the beginners in "Cupid's Garden" with a fairy queen, a puck, and all the other figures appropriate to such a theme. Still another large group will give an interesting "Chinese Dance."

There will of course be many solo numbers, one of the soloists being little Betty Jane Stewart, who is but three years old.

Where Is It?

It Might Happen to You—

Each morning's paper tells of fires—someone's property consumed. Each night brings its burglaries—someone's property stolen.

Liberty bonds, deeds, insurance policies, notes, wills, stock certificates, jewels, family silverware and other valuables are so easily stolen or lost—so frequently destroyed by fire when kept around the house or office.

For a penny or so a day you may keep them in a safe deposit box in our burglar-proof, fire-proof vault.

Bring your valuables to the bank today and know they are safe.

BUYING A HOME?

READ THIS FIRST

Here is the best buy we have had for a long time for the man who wants room for his family, for garden and chickens or for to build income in the fuutre.

The lot has a frontage of 80 feet, depth 160 feet; it is fenced, with space for children's playground and another for chickens. Beautiful lawn, orange, grapefruit, apple and plum trees, nice garden growing.

The house is modern; living room, dining room, bedroom, sleeping porch, kitchen, bath, screen porch with laundry tray. Not new, but in excellent condition.

In the back yard is an up-to-date tenthouse, with floor; a real place for the children to sleep, with electric lights and everything to make it comfortable. Large garage.

The location is ideal, close to grade and intermediate schools, not far from high school.

Fortunately for the buyer, we are able to offer this place at a price lower than that of anything in Glendale which in any way compares with it. It will be sold to the first man who sees it, who is looking for property of this kind.

Price only $5250; about $2000 cash. Tawe our word for it, this is a buy.

WANT ADS PAY

NEW TREASURE OF GLENDALE IN THE HILLS

Mr. Editor, the rostrum, pulpit, and the press are the channels through which we reach the people. I have, with your permission, selected the press, as I feel that it will carry my story to the most people, and this story is of more than passing interest. I wonder how many Glendale and neighboring townsfolk know what a treasure there is hidden in the old Verdugo Hills—something more precious than gold.

Those old hills, or rather some portions of them, very natural acoustic properties that are seldom found. I know of two only, one in the Alsatian mountains, one in the Surrey hills, England, and some few years ago, the discovery of these properties in the Verdugo Hills. Hollywood found similar conditions, and they got busy right away and built the Bowl.

Now the story as to how I found out this wonderful thing.

I used to live in the rear of Casistas Rose, then the property of R. H. Willson on Stocker street. One night I was awakened by some very beautiful singing somewhere near. At first I thought I must be dreaming, and just as I pulled myself together to investigate, the singing stopped. A few nights later, the same thing occurred, and this time I jumped into my harness and went out on a prospecting trip, and sure enough I located what I was looking for, a gathering of men who loved music. There were nine of them, some young, some middle-aged, and two of them old chaps. They were employes from the Ross & Thom ranch, excepting three, who came from over by the old winery on the San Fernando road.

They told me that they made the discovery one night while holding a moonlight picnic. I tried very hard to get the musical associations of Los Angeles and Glendale to take hold of their affair and see what they could do. The Los Angeles Times gave it a lot of publicity, but nothing was done in the matter.

Mr. Levi, the world's greatest cornetist, came out and sampled the goods. He was delighted and told me that if it should be his good fortune to come to California again, he would certainly see what he could do about it. He happened to know about Surrey Hills, and of course was much interested. He was present at the rendering of the Messiah there many years ago. I myself was present. It was the greatest performance of the Messiah that I know of since Michael Costa and Sir Jules Benedict were the conductors and the solo work was rendered by Sim Reeves, Charles Santley, Hen Jongman, Fatti and Neilson, and dear old Jenny Lynd (Lady Goldsmith). The chorus work was done by the Philharmonic Society of Exeter Hall, and other musical organizations. That was oratorio at its summit.

Now, what I want to say, is this: There is a spot about 200 feet east of the present Casa Verdugo Cafe where the acoustic properties can be found. Why not stage a community sing there before it is too late? This property will be sold soon and then it will be too late to have one concert there. Is there enough grit in the Glendale music lovers to try it out? The opportunity is Glendale's.

Thanks Mr. Editor, Glendale Daily Press.

PHIL FELTON.

Editorials by the People

Glendale, Cal., July 18, 1923.
Editor Glendale Daily Press.

My dear editor: A short time ago the Dog Protective association was organized in Glendale. As the name suggests, its purpose is to protect dogs.

This society is conducting a fight for the repeal of the present dog ordinance in this city. In its place it would substitute an ordinance, which, so far as keeping the streets of Glendale free of dogs is concerned, is practically worthless. It would have the secretary of the humane commission, which it suggests be appointed, to pick up all dogs that do not carry license tag.

As far as it goes this ordinance is fairly good, but it does not go far enough. So far as bias dog owners, many of whom have no children, are concerned, this is a pip of an ordinance. It permits the licensed dog to do anything and go anywhere it pleases. It can go into its neighbor's back yard, dig up his flowers, bite his children, and cause all the rough house it cares to.

If this rambling licensed dog bites a child, the parent of the child can start civil suit against the owner of the dog, who will demand a jury trial. On that jury probably will be a "rabid" dog owner, and, therefore, the jury will disagree when it comes to convicting the owner of the dog. This farce may be repeated over and over without justice being done the child and its parents.

But how about the child The little one may be maimed for life, and worse, it may die from the results of the injuries. Would all the satisfaction in the world in the form of money, providing a judgment could possibly be secured, compensate for the loss of the little one?

The present ordinance prohibits any and all dogs from running at large, thereby safeguarding the lives of the citizens of Glendale. It gives those who do not own dogs as well as those who do, the protection to which they are entitled.

The members of this dog association claim that if they pay a license for their dogs they should be permitted to let them run at large. Are not the people who pay taxes in Glendale entitled to protection from some other man's dog? The dog license costs two dollars, while the average property owner in Glendale pays probably one hundred dollars a year in taxes. The renter pays his part of the operation expenses of the city in the form of rent. If need be, cut out the dog tax and make it a misdemeanor for any person to permit his dog to run loose on the streets of this city. The man who cares for his dog, and who is willing to consider the other man's rights, will want to keep it at home and not have it running streets night and day.

The trouble is the members of the Dog Protective association are absolutely selfish in their views. They do not concede the non-dog owner any rights whatever. They do not consider for a moment the safety of the children of Glendale, although one child is worth more than all the dogs in creation. All they think of is "their poor mistreated dogs." Those favoring the repeal of this ordinance are but a "handful" when compared to those of the city who desire protection from the licensed or unlicensed dog and the city council should not be influenced by their "packer" meetings.

Why not form in Glendale a Children's Protective association? Why do the fathers and mothers here remain silent when legislation is being considered by the council that has to do with the safety of their children. If a dog is worth protecting, how much more is the safety of the children worth consideration.

Let us be fair to the child as well as the dog. Let us cut out all this silly sentimentalism and use the brains God gave us. Let us confine the dogs so that our children may in safety be upon our streets.

A dog is a dog regardless of whether or not he wears a license tag. The tag does not stop him from mangling some innocent child.

The members of the council should be strong enough to consider the rights of all the people of Glendale and not be swayed by a handful of unreasonable dog owners.

The dog is a menace to public safety, therefore restrictions that will protect human life should be placed around it.

The rights of the dog cannot reasonably be spoken of in the same breath as those of the boy or girl.

This is a place for the children of Glendale, the precious girls and boys who brighten our homes. The council cannot permit it to go unheeded. It cannot wash its hands of the dog question by simply repealing the present dog ordinance. It must act reasonably. It must protect the girls and boys of Glendale.

It is urged with all the force possible that the parents as well as others, who love children and are selfish enough to consider their own safety to be present at the council chamber that all may give expression to their views, as well as those who will "pack" this meeting. It is especially urged that it not be left to the other fellow as he may fail.

It is fully realized that all child lovers are a very busy people, but the exigencies of these circumstances demand that we give this matter attention and demand a safer freedom, from this menace and the relatively small minority should be forced to concede this protection.

For child protection, I am,

Yours truly,
C. L. BRINKMAN,
1524 South San Fernando Road,
Glendale, Calif.

The following has been received by the Glendale Daily Press from Mrs. John S. Knox, well known to all Glendalians:

To the Editor: A short time ago the attention of the public was called to Governor Percival P. Baxter of Maine when he ordered the flags of the state capitol at Augusta half-masted in honor of his dog, "Garry." We were impressed with the thought that this recognition of his faithful comrade was the first time in history any dog had been so honored. So we wrote a little note to Governor Baxter commending his action and lauding also his rejection of the Shepperd-Towner bill. We received the following gracious reply which we would like to share with the readers of the Press:

State of Maine
Office of the Governor
Augusta
June 13, 1923.

My Dear Mrs. Knox: I received your note, together with enclosures, and thank you for writing me. It is encouraging to know that you approve of the action that I took, for I did so deliberately and for the purpose of impressing upon our people a sense of their responsibilities towards dumb animals.

For some years I have been a member of the American Medical Liberty League and although I do not subscribe to all their doctrines I believe that their influence should be encouraged in order to offset inoculators and vivisectionists who seem to have acquired considerable influence in this country of ours.

It would give me much pleasure if you would accept a picture of my good friend, "Garry," and myself with my compliments.

Believe me, faithfully yours,
PERCIVAL P. BAXTER,
Governor of Maine.

To Mrs. John S. Knox,
435 South Central avenue,
Glendale, Calif.

Peace Insurance Is New Plan of Lord Robert Cecil

By HENRY WOOD
(United Press Staff Correspondent

GENEVA (By mail to United Press).—From mutual insurance societies for the protection of individuals the world has now progressed to a basis where it will soon have mutual insurance societies for the protection of nations. This is one of the international social outgrowths of the war.

Two projects are now under way for the organization of international mutual insurance for nations.

The first of these is Lord Robert Cecil's project for an international guarantee pact, as an insurance against war. It is now under consideration by the League of Nations as an indispensable basis for disarmament.

Under its terms the nations signing it will not only pledge themselves not to attack each other, but to come to each other's assistance in the event they are attacked by others.

Just as each individual by reason of a mutual insurance protection is able to cut down his expenses for insuring the future of himself or his family, so by this international mutual insurance against war each nation will be able to cut down its expenses of self-defense from what it now costs to each nation to insure its own defense single-handed.

The second project of international mutual insurance form nations is that put forward by Italy. She demands an international treaty and organization pledging all nations to come to each other's assistance in the event of great natural calamities, such as earthquakes, fires, famines, epidemics, cyclones, etc.

HUGE EEPHANT IS STAR OF "SOUL OF THE BEAST"

With an elephant star to furnish novelty and a delightful human interest plot for a story, "Soul of the Beast," the new Thomas H. Ince production which opened at the Glendale theater on July 15, is one of the most unusual pictures ever shown on the screen.

"Oscar," the elephant, shows an intelligence in his performance throughout this Metro picture that is uncanny and marks him for a place in the front rank of the screen's most popular animal stars. Madge Bellamy as the forlorn little elephant girl outstrips even her fine emotional work in Maurice Tourneur's "Lorna Doone." The combination of the elephant, the girl and some absolutely novel situations is a knock-out and carries a striking appeal for every member of the family.

"Soul of the Beast" tells the adventures of a little Cinderella of the circus who has centered all her affections in her elephant "Oscar." The motherless girl is the drudge of a moth-eaten troupe and the target of the petty spitefulness of her step-father until one night when a cyclone blows down the big circus tents she and "Oscar" run away into the backwoods of Canada. Some romantic adventures ensue.

Miss Bellamy and "Oscar" head an unusually strong cast. As the crippled boy musician, whose lameness makes him the butt of many cruel jokes played by the town bully, Cullen Landis achieves a splendid characterization, while Noah Beery, as Caesar Durand, adds another hated "villain" to his long list of successes in this line.

John Griffith Wray directed. C. Gardner Sullivan is author of the story.

Have You Bought Your Easy Vacuum Electric Washer Yet?

If you have not, you do not know the fullest freedom from washday drudgery. That's why we ask you to permit us to demonstrate an "EASY" in your home without obligation on your part. Then you can convince yourself that the "EASY" principle of washing clothes by means of air pressure and suction is as efficient on heavy blankets as it is safe for washing the finest laces and lingerie.

The revolving vacuum cups move up and down sixty times per minute. They flush the soapy water through the mesh of the garments. There is no dragging, jerking or pulling of the clothes—no wear or tear—simply a gentle forcing of the water through the mesh of the fabrics, carrying with it all dirt and foreign substances.

Phone us for demonstration. You are not obligated.

REFUSED

33⅓ percent profit on San Fernando Boulevard.

In the Saturday edition of the Glendale Daily Press I ran an advertisement stating that I had sold twenty-two pieces of property on San Fernando Boulevard that I would buy back, paying the investor 33 1-3 per cent annually on his investment. I knew when I made this offer that I could not buy any of these twenty-two pieces back at that price, so I am going to pick out a few pieces I would like to buy back, give you the prices I sold them at and the prices I will pay for them.

I sold Lot No. 2 between Palmer and Magnolia on San Fernando Blvd. for $2000 eight months ago—I will buy this lot back for $5500. I sold the N. E. corner of Acacia and San Fernando Blvd. for $3750 about seven months ago—I will buy back this lot for $6000. I sold Lot No. 2, between Park Ave. and Acacia on San Fernando Blvd. in December, 1922, for $3750—I will buy back this lot for $7000. I sold building on the S. E. corner of San Fernando and Acacia in October, 1922, for $10,000—I will buy this back for $17,000.

I will not be able to buy any of these pieces of property back at these prices; the owners know what they have got; they also know that they will not go broke by taking a profit. I am positive they see San Fernando Blvd. as I see it. Property is still low on San Fernando Blvd. It has its growth with Glendale.

I have a number of good business and industrial sites at what I consider very low prices.

ITINERARY OF THE PRESIDENT IN L. A. COUNTY

To Reach Glendale Aug. 3 at 11:30, Moving Eastward

Into the home of co-operative marketing in Southern California, after a series of speeches in the middle west in which he urges this form of handling foodstuffs as a remedy for the wide discrepancy of prices between producer and consumer, President Warren G. Harding will arrive on Thursday, August 2, and will be taken through the citrus and walnut belts as a part of his itinerary in this part of the state. Full arrangements have been made by Ralph Arnold, chairman of the Republican County Central Committee.

The president's most recent statement on economics in America has a more than passing significance to Southern California, as it was through repeated conferences with the late G. Harold Powell of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, that President Harding became convinced of the need for a closer contact for the producer and consumer. Not more than a month before General Manager Powell's death he was requested by the president to come to Washington, and it was at that time that the president's views on co-operative marketing were crystallized. He has come to be a firm believer in this system, and is making allusions to it in nearly every speech on his tour.

The president will arrive in Los Angeles on August 2 in the morning, and will be domiciled at the Ambassador. Present plans for his entertainment include a monster pageatn in Los Angeles reviewing the various episodes in the progress of California; the massing of 80,000 school children in the coliseu mat Exposition Park when the president will dedicate the stadium. The governor will join the presidential party at the Yosemite and preceed south with him.

The presidential party arrives at 9:30 at the Arcade station, where he will be met by a committee, and escorted to Washington and Figueroa streets where the pageant forms. The line of march to his hotel will be the opportunity for the witnessing of this allegorical history of Southern California progress. At two o'clock he will visit the Sawtelle hospital, when Mrs. Harding will present a pink carnation to every disabled veteran. At 3:45 he will plant a tree at Hollywood, as arranged by the D. A. R. At four o'clock he will participate in a Masonic ceremony at the Hollywood bowl. At eight o'clock the chief executive will be presented to his Southern California audience at the coliseum, Exposition Park, when he will be introduced by Governor Richardson.

On Friday, August 3, he will visit motion picture studios from 9:30 to 11, when he will leave for a trip through Southern California towns. At 11:30 he will be in Glendale; at 12 at Pasadena; after which he will pass through the cities of South Pasadena, Alhambra, San Gabriel, Montebello and other towns enroute to Long Beach.

"The Coliseum will be open free to the public," said Mayor Cryer, general chairman of arrangements. "A small American flag in the hands of everyone is suggested. No reserve seats are to be had except for the G. A. R. No person will be allowed to meet the president on his way down the coast as he will be resting."

All of Southern California is invited to Los Angeles on these dates.

SCOUT CAMP TO EXTEND WORK FOR BOYS

To Give One More Chance to Attend the Ten-day Period

"All Boy Scouts of the Verdugo Hills district, owing to special arrangements made by the committee on camping, will be given one more chance to attend the ten-day period from July 21 to July 30, at Camp Royl-Kent, near Lake Arrowhead," stated Frank C. Ayars this morning. Mr. Ayars is chairman of the Boy Scout camping committee.

In telling more of the new arrangement he said that "The camping committee feels that there are a large number of Boy Scouts who for some reason or other have found it impossible to attend either of the three camping periods that will come to an end on July 19, and who may now find it convenient to go especially this last period of the camp. It is our desire that every Boy Scout in the Verdugo Hills district be given an opportunity of going on this wonderful camping trip with its swimming, boating, fishing, hiking, games, contests and "swell" eats.

"The Scouts who have already attended the camp know what a fine time they had and there are a number of these who have spoken to return another ten days. They will be permitted to go up once more if they still desire. Such remarks from the boys as "The greatest camp ever," "bully good eats," "say, man, I caught almost the limit of fish," "can't we stay longer," etc. etc., are attributed to the Scouts.

"A special headquarters troop will be organized at the camp under the personal leadership of Walter Wescott, star athlete and football captain of the University of California, Southern branch. Scouts who come to the camp without their Scoutmaster, will be permitted to join the headquarters troop and will be provided with selected spot for their own camp."

Parents are urged by Mr. Ayars to see that their boys be given every encouragement to attend the camp. "The training alone they receive is almost a priceless asset to the rounding out of a dependable, self-reliant future citizen," he added.

Scouts are urged to get their Scoutmaster's O. K. and then to either mail or bring in person to the district Scout office the application for reservation together with $2 registration fee. The Scouts will leave Saturday, July 21 for the last period at Camp Royl-Kent.

Truths in Epigram

Nature is a mutable cloud which is always and never the same.—Emerson.

Most of the luxuries and many of the so-called comforts of life are only not indispensable, but positive hindrances to the elevation of mankind.—Thoreau.

Knowledge and timber shouldn't be much used until they are seasoned.—Holmes.

JUMPING ON FRANCE

A habit has grown up of declaring France to be bent on a course that means the destruction of Europe. Americans who were pro-German in the war aver hotly that in some day to come Germany and Russia, because of the present conduct of France, will sweep the continent, effacing such governments as may not be pleasing to them. This is a jump at conclusions. Russia may be counted out of it. Under soviet rule Russia is a tragic failure, inept, incapable; not competent to keep the simplest economic machinery in motion; lacking even the ability to provide its own children with sustenance. In a land of food it starves. In a land of fuel it freezes, a blind and blundering imbecile. When Russia has passed into control of the Russians, and the brutal oligarchy of the present is part of the rubbish heap, there will be other things to be attended to than sweeping Europe.

No course that France might take could cause Germany to entertain hatred more burning and bitter than it cherished before invasion of the Ruhr. France knew, or thought it knew, that industrially Germany was flourishing. It had every reason to believe that Germany had not the slightest intent of paying reparation. Germany was a truculent and impertinent debtor, making occasional meaningless overtures, aware that they could not be accepted. France waited a long time, and then it did exactly that which its self respect demanded, and that which any nation similarly conditioned would have done. It gave fair warning that if payment was further withheld it would come and exact it. So its forces are in the Ruhr. For the fact that this is the case Germany alone is responsible.

Every threat made in behalf of Germany that in the future it will make full reprisal, is an added reason for France to be firm. It hardly could be expected, even at the courteous suggestion of England, and the howl of American pro-Germans, to assist in nurturing a giant that is striving to grow so that in its magnitude it may devour the French.

LACK OF FAIRNESS

An editor of New Mexico has just been sentenced to a year of imprisonment, and to heavy fine on the charge of contempt. He was sentenced by the judge against whose court the alleged contempt had been directed. The fairness of such a proceeding may be questioned. The judge could not have been free from prejudice. He had been charged with corruption. If corrupt, it is manifest that he was not a fit person to preside at the trial If not corrupt he was acting in questionable taste. The trial was before a jury most of whom it is said were unfamiliar with the English language.

In many instances a judge is barred from service. If a defendant is a relative of his, had been a business associate, or on terms of intimate friendship, the judge vacates the bench voluntarily. Were he to neglect to do so the suggestion as to the propriety of such a course would be made to him, and he would be forced to do so. But a judge deeming himself to have been the subject of newspaper attack is at liberty to cause arraignment, to pass upon the admissibility of evidence, to construe the law, and to instruct the jurors. Hence, if so inclined, he is able to dictate the verdict. Hence also, if New Mexico is a center of political corruption as the editor averred, and as some are inclined to believe, such a trial as that just ended could hardly be deemed other than a farce.

Freedom of the press is not unrestricted license. There are journalists who offend against the law, and who are properly subject to penalty. There is little to indicate that the editor in this instance belongs to the objectionable class. He seems to have fought the bosses, and they seem to have won the chance to express their disapproval of his course.

BACK TO CAPITALISM

One of the "big five" of the soviet government recently made a speech the gist of which was "Back to Capitalism." He admitted that the workings of bolshevism had led to nothing but disaster on the economic side, and that "conditions force us to make further undesired compromises and concessions to the international burgeois, and to our chief enemy, capitalism."

Thus did Kamaneff display the curious workings of the bolshevist mind. The concerted effort of his regime has been the destruction of capitalism, and of the "international bourgeois" mentioned by him with contempt. Yet to these agencies the bolshevists have to turn for help. Had the attempt at destruction been successful, whither, and to what could they have turned? They are pausing now to take breath before renewing the assault. No attitude on the part of a statesman could be more pitifully absurd. It is the confession of folly, and of a determination to adhere to a suicidal policy.

"Capitalism" is a much misused and abused term. It has come to represent to certain grades of intelligence, a monster ready to devour labor and to reap all the fruits of toil, leaving industry to starve. Thus the ignorant easily are persuaded to hate it. They do not understand that capital is an instrumentality through which the business of the world must be carried on. Agitators who denounce the wage system as slavery seem to learn nothing by the example of Russia where slavery exists, but an absence of wages.

Capitalism will not compromise with the soviets. If they need money, are able to offer good security, and can give assurance of honorable intent, doubtless the money will be available. Such an arrangement would not be compromise or concession, but the abject surrender of the bolshevist outfit.

DEFYING NATURE

It is said that Dr. Steinach of Vienna is coming to this country bringing with him the secret of restoring youth to the aged. He poses as defying nature. Ajax defied the lightning, but without getting anywhere. In all probability the Steinach process will be equally effective. Cures have been announced for many ailments, indeed for most ailments. Had these been all that was claimed for them, the boon of dying would have been withheld from humanity.

That the human body may last indefinitely, with force unabated, does not seem quite reasonable, nor wholly desirable. Some people already believe in birth control, to be used lest the world become overpopulated with the unfit. If old men are to be made young, the problem of over-production at once becomes more acute. Indeed, the world might conclude to get along with the existing personnel.

When the human frame has borne the burden of labor and of the passing years, it ceases to renew itself. It becomes aged in feeling and in appearance. The vitality ebbs, and the muscles shrink. Weakness takes the places of the former strength. It may be that here and there the individual is found who rebels against the inevitable. Such an individual will consult the great specialist, and his imagination be stimulated into the belief that the fires of dead years have returned to flow through his veins. After this, the fad is likely to go to join innumerable others that for a time have held out hope to the credulous.

It would seem wise for every urban community to maintain automobile tourist camps. Many places in the northwest do this. The camps are sanitary, comfortable, and in some instances even luxurious. They are greatly appreciated by the tourists. There is a nominal charge, ranging from 15 to 50 cents, but the traveler is glad to pay it.

Many a man who thinks that he is honest because he pays back borrowed money wouldn't think of returning a borrowed umbrella.

The Anaesthesia of Custom

By ESTELLE LAWTON LINDSEY

Flippantly we are wont to announce: "You can get used to anything."

Solemnly, when we disapprove what somebody else is doing, we quote:

"We first endure, then pity, then embrace."

Estelle Lawton Lindsey

And so quoting and so announcing we wonder why progress travels on a snail's back.

We know that men, by a protective law of nature, become inured to suffering, even to torture and so fail to appraise it, but it does not occur to us to set up as a warning to the young this motto:

"Be careful what you get used to; custom is the deadliest of all anaesthetics."

Chatting last week with an American woman lately resident in China I mentioned the horrible odors in that distracted land. A smile greeted the remark and she said lightly:

"Oh you soon get used to them and don't mind."

The anaesthesia of custom, the same thing that enables the kindest Chinese father to endure unmoved the agonies of his little girl during the ordeal of having her feet bound.

In all backward countries the people endure constantly and unmoved the sight of sufferings that would send us hot foot to call the police. It does not even occur to them to resent it, in most cases they do not see it. Custom has drugged their sensibilities.

Here and there some prophet arises with power enough to escape the anaesthesia of custom. Such a one thunders the truth to the drugged mentalities of his fellows until some of them awake and a great abuse is corrected or a great advance made in the minds of men.

Such people see with undimmed vision the abuses of their time, their class, their clique. Pierre Loti saw the tragedy of a poor ox slaughtered at sea and wrote that poignant story "The Slaughter of an Ox at Sea." It would make the carnivorous pause.

Abraham Lincoln escaped the anaesthesia of custom and helped deliver a race from slavery. Henry Burgh, who did not like animals, still saw so clearly their misery that he endured all kinds of contumely and abuse to establish the American Humane society, and every man who has led the vanguard of human progress has been one who survived the mandragora of the obvious.

In fact, only by escaping, by resisting, by striving to stay free from the paralysis of custom can men become great, and tender and true. A drugged man is a dead man no matter whether the drug be opium or custom.

THE RIGHT WORD

SEEKING LIGHT

The following letter from K. T. L. of New York has been received:

"Please tell me what is the best way in writing good English—corrective word and excellent construction of sentence.

"I greatly appreciate you will kindly reply it in your paper."

The following is a correct rewriting of K. T. L.'s letter:

Please tell me how I can improve in writing English, using right words and correct constructions.

There are many ways in which you can improve your English, both written and spoken. Benjamin Franklin used to read a paragraph from some good writer and then try to reproduce the paragraph in as good style and as correctly as the model. After comparing his own effort with the model, he would tear up his and try again. This method means hard work, but work spells success.

THE LISTENING POST

By James W. Foley

JAMES W. FOLEY

The melon grower matures his melon.

He tills the soil, plants the seed, harrows and cultivates and cares for.

Until the melon is grown.

And there is a long interval and there are many vicissitudes between the seed and the melon.

* * *

If you lived beside the melon grower you would walk across the road and get a melon.

And the farmer would take in exchange what you produced that he needed or wanted.

It might be cucumbers or milk or peaches or what not.

For an exchange would complete the transaction.

* * *

But you do not live beside the melon grower.

You live a great many miles away.

And the melon must get to you in some way.

So the melon grower cannot pick the melon off his vine and give it to you.

Some one else does the picking.

* * *

And the melons picked must be crated or packed for shipment.

And this means expense for crates and for labor and cartage.

For the melon has to be carted to a car in which it is to be transported.

* * *

And everybody who touches the melon between the time it is ripe and the time it is opened on your breakfast table has to have a profit.

The picker.

The crater.

The transportation system.

The buyer.

The commission man.

The grocer.

The delivery man.

* * *

So by the time the melon has reached your breakfast table it has gone through a great many hands.

Each of which has taken a profit.

For all men live by the profit of their undertakings.

If they live honestly.

* * *

So the melon that might have cost a few cents on the vine costs many times that on the table.

And grower and picker and carter and buyer and hauler and distributor and seller all have a part.

But the producer's profit ceases when he has sold his melon to the buyer.

And it is often a small profit.

For he has to sell.

* * *

It is the same with beef and mutton and pork and wheat and coffee and sugar and a hundred and one articles.

Growers.

Pickers.

Carters.

Buyers.

Haulers.

Distributors.

Sellers.

* * *

All taking a profit.

And other profits are taken by icers.

Insurers.

Bankers.

Roadmakers.

Taxgatherers.

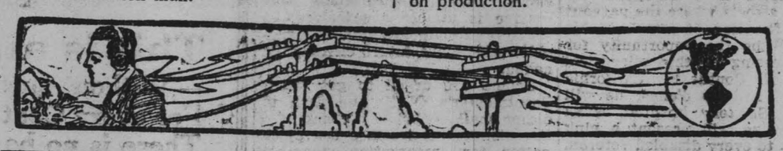
And intermediaries of many kinds and types.

* * *

All of which is to indicate that modern distribution of product is expensive.

And the grower gets perhaps too small a share.

Because too many people make demands upon production.



Songs of the Poets

Resignation—By Walter Savage Landor

Why, why repine, my pensive friend,
At pleasures slipp'd away?
Some the stern Fates will never lend,
And all refuse to stay.

I see the rainbow in the sky,
The dew upon the grass;
I see them, and I ask not why
They glimmer or they pass.

With folded arms I linger not
To call them back 'twere vain;
In this, or in some other spot,
I know they'll shine again.

WASTE EMOTION IS SEPTIC

By DR. FRANK CRANE

THERE is a deal of waste emotion, just as there is a deal of waste food. All food one takes, that does not go to make force and healthy tissue, clogs the system and breeds disease. And all emotion in which one indulges, that does not get itself somehow transmuted into action, ferments and develops moral perversion.

A man who has no religious feeling at all cannot be as wicked as the man who regularly experiences religious sentiment, but does not put it into practice.

The one field where you cannot afford to be a dilettante is morals.

An ideal that never is put into your life steadily corrupts your character.

A conviction that never works out into concrete deeds makes you worse and worse.

Excessive indulgence in music, art, the theater or romance, if it does not in some way get expressed in your words and fingers and actual human relations, tends to make you morally flabby.

William James says: "Never suffer yourself to have an emotion at a concert, without expressing it afterward in some active way. Let the expression be the least thing in the world—speaking genially to one's aunt, or giving up one's seat in a horsecar, if nothing more heroic offers—but let it not fail to take place."

Feeling of any kind is given to us for but one purpose; that it may eventuate in action. Those whose lives are spent solely in the enjoyment of impressions and who do no useful work are like men would be if they spent their whole time in consuming food and drink and never exercising.

Such men grow dull, gross and impotent.

And the souls that continually stuff themselves with ideas and ideals, with emotions, appreciations and thrills, and never get out and turn these things into helpful action would seem, if we could view them under the spiritual microscope, to be fat, paralyzed lumps.

To have no emotions at all is bad. To cultivate emotions that we never use is worse.

EASTERN POINT OF VIEW

IF

[New York World]

If Mr. Harding desires to enter the World Court, as he has passionately averred, he must burst his bonds and place himself clearly and unmistakably with the people who, like him, desire that America shall play her part in the world. It is late to do this, but not too late. Only weak minds are diverted from the right by fear of being called inconsistent. This charge Mr. Harding has already incurred. The two parts of his St. Louis speech were inconsistent with each other. If his spirit is still eager to serve; if his hope is in the great court; if his resolution to join in it is fixed, he must see that we can only join on conditions that will make that course possible, and that the scheming politicians demand impossible conditions only to kill the project.

COMMENT ON DAY'S NEWS

By HENRY JAMES

John D. Rockefeller is 84 years old. Mention often is made of the remarkable preservation of his faculties, but his recent conduct throws doubt on the accuracy of this view.

HENRY JAMES.

Recently the aged financier chanced to be on a boat. To the accompaniment of quite copious remarks he presented the boatman with a dime. Ascertaining by inquiry that the beneficiary had a wife, he handed over a second dime for her. Learning then that the pair had been blessed with a child, a third dime was forthcoming. With the coins jingling in his pockets, the perhaps grateful boatman went about his affairs.

No full grown man could without a feeling of proper resentment be subjected to the proffer of ten cents by one of the richest individuals in the world. The boatman would have been wholly right in declining the gift. Were the donor too insistent to be refused, then the recipient might without violation of good taste have pitched the silver overboard.

What is in the mind of a multi-millionaire or any other adult when he gives a dime to a two-fisted wage earner? That sort of donation might be well enough if tendered to a youngster of the ice cream cone age. The one presuming to give it, either is not well preserved, or in the process of preservation had saved qualities it were better to have lost.

* * *

It is pleasing to any writer to observe kindly mention of his work, whether this comes by letter or appears in print. Some writers are able to make open acknowledgement of such courtesies, but the general character of this column forbids. Nevertheless the author of it desires to extend thanks to many individuals, each one of whom will understand the paragraph as meaning him or her.

A curious contest seems to be in progress, partly in Los Angeles, where a girl with the movie fever disclaims relationship with her own parents. Evidently she is desirous of a career.

The parents, having "borned" her, baptized her, and supplied her with food and raiment, it may be assumed, take a different view as to the worth of a career open to an obstreperous kid.

Two women, sisters, assert the right to a child now six years of age, each claiming to be the mother of the little one.

This is one of the things concerning which there could be no actual uncertainty. The conclusion is inevitable that there is a fib in the family somewhere.

Los Angeles county has another woman charged with murder. It had been hoped that the community was to have a respite. Most of the time for several years the county jail had held at least one woman similarly accused. There had been a brief period of comfort following the closing of penitentiary doors on Clara Phillips.

The new case seems likely to follow the regular course. There will be at least two trials, the first conducted by the newspapers. Reporters will bend with fevered brow over the task of assembling or manufacturing details of no value.

It is unfortunate that ladies should kill their husbands, or even that circumstances should point to the probability of their having done so. This is true from the standpoint of the husbands, as well as of the public, which has been more than sated on she assassins.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

THE LOST PLAYTIME

Sonny is six years old and very lively. He loves to make a train of himself and shuff, shuff, along the polished hall clanking, ding-donging and too-tooting.

Now he's the engineer, head out of the window and hand on the throttle and yelling, "Fire up, you Jim!" Now he's the conductor calling "B-oo-rr-d. 'Right." Waving his curt signal to the engineer ahead. Now he's the brakeman waving his flag and yelling like mad, "Danger-r-r. Red Flag. Danger-r-r-r." He's a busy train, no doubt about that.

"Sonny stop that noise! That's surely enough now. Keep still until I finish this letter and I'll change your clothes so you can go out and play."

Silence for a minute, perhaps two. Then Sonny begins to shuff-shuff softly up and down the hall. His mother writes on busily. The train speeds up and the noise keeps up with it.

Soon it fills the house and mother calls, "Sonny, didn't I tell you to stop that? Now stop it this minute. Keep quiet until I finish. If you make another uproar I'll keep you in all afternoon."

The letter writing is resumed and the stillness lasts for a few minutes. Then the low shuff-shuff begins and the train starts like a muffled freight only to turn into the Chicago limited making time around the curves.

"Sonny. Come in here. Now sit down where I can see you and you'll stay in this afternoon. You'll lose your play for being so disobedient. I spoke to you three times. Now you can suffer for it."

Which is why we speak about it. He should not suffer the loss of his play because he needs it quite as much as he needs his sleep and his food. The reason he was making the noise was bound up in just that. He needed to and it was not fair to keep him in and tell him to be quiet.

Why not slip on his overalls and turn him out doors at once?

He doesn't need so much fussing over. The loose overalls that he can slip on himself and with a little assistance, button or buckle take no time. If he were going to a garden party there might be some sense in having him dressed as a green and gold buttercup, though we doubt it, but to get out to play, none.

When a child is troublesome because he wants to exercise his body and his lungs it won't mend matters to try to make him sit still and keep quiet. That represses his energy and as it must escape somehow it will find ways of expressing itself that will not be more comfortable for the nerve-weary grown-up.

The cure for restlessness and noise is more restlessness and noise. Turn the child loose and let him have it out. To deprive him of his playtime is not healthy for his body or his mind. Nor will it prove healthy for the adult who tries it.

WATCHING THE PARADE

By JOHN PILGRIM

Doc Henneberry pointed out last night that the chief difference between a hero and common folks is that the hero is harder to live with.

Doc has a brother in-law. There is nothing strange in that. Most of us have 'em. But Doc's brother-in-law is a sort of a small time hero. He will not compromise with wrong. He will not abate an inch from his lofty stand. The consequence is that for years Doc has been partly supporting the brother-in-law. Last night the brother-in-law lost his job again.

"I will not stand by with my eyes closed in the presence of such practices," he said, passionately, referring to his break with his latest employer. "I am not that sort of a man. I had rather suffer than be untrue to myself."

"That's right," said Doc. "I honor you for it. But how about this money you owe me? When do I get it?"

The brother-in-law was offended and enraged. He pointed out to Doc the lack of generosity—the culpability—of his course. If he had the money, he said, he would pay.

"I know you're honest," said Doc. "But I want my money."

Doc's theory is that this world isn't such a bad place after all. The brother-in-law's late boss has done more for the town than Doc's brother-in-law could ever do. But there are angles of his character that might be improved.

"My brother-in-law only sees the angles," says Doc, "and not the good. I would not suggest that any one consent by silence to evil doing. Only—when I'm paying the freight, as I am with this dad-burned brother-in-law of mine—I have a right to name the road. We must all compromise a little in this life. Too many heroes spoil the broth."

DISTINGUISHED ORGANIST AT THE GATEWAY

Glendale's Newest Playhouse to Have Artist at Organ

A small piece of sheet music unusual for its cover design, was shown in a music store window the other day. Down at one corner of the page was the name of L. Ear Abel, and a short paragraph to show that he had written the music and the words.

The Gateway theater, Glendale's newest playhouse, which opens its doors to the public on Friday, will have Mr. Abel, this well-known organist and composer preside at the console of the Robert Morton organ.

Although a young man, Mr. Abel is known nationally as a composer and organist of the first magnitude. He was born in Chicago twenty-three years ago and studied the organ at the Chicago Conservatory of Music. After a short career as a church organist, he entered the moving picture field, holding down several important engagements. His big chance in luck and recognition of his ability came five years ago in San Francisco, where he presided at the console of the organ in the Rivoli. This was the first step upward in his career, but the reputations made by C. Sharpe Minor, the head organist of Grauman's theater and his contempory, Jess E. Crawford, at the California theater attracted him to the hub of the motion picture industry. Both Minor and Crawford represented a new school of organists. They knew their organs so perfectly, and all the combinations possible to secure in them, that it was possible for them to play pictures and get effects heretofore unattainable to illustrate the scenes on the screen.

Mr. Abel then became a pupil of Jess Crawford and learned the art of his teacher so well that he next presided at the organ of the California theater, a position of responsibility, as the organ there is played in combination with the seventy-five piece California Symphony orchestra.

For many months Mr. Abel delighted the crowds at the California theater receiving the highest praise from all the critics. He later joined the Kinema theater in the same capacity.

This young organist has already composed over fifty pieces of popular music in his short career. "Somewhere." "You. Just You," "Honeymoon" and "Goodbye Pal," are a few of his many successes. "Somewhere" is now one of the Edison records.

Mr. Abel easily takes his place as one of the leading organists of the country and the music loving people of Glendale and vicinity are to be congratulated upon having this celebrated organist in their midst.

If you wear your aprons out quickly make a double small one to wear with the regular size ones. Also make separate good sized bibs double and have them long enough to tuck into the binding of the apron.

Foley's Friendly Fancies

JAMES W. FOLEY

A TOAST

Good Friend, my heart's with friendship stirred,
And so I'll speak that kindly word,
For when again it may be heard,
We never know.

And there's that deed we ought to do
Of kindness, pledged by me and you,
For when the time for deeds is through,
We never know.

You shall not go from me in heat
Or anger, for the days are fleet,
And when again we two shall meet,
We never know.

And there's the pledge we vowed to keep,
Let not the spirits of us sleep,
The sower sows, but if he reap
We never know.

Good Friend, withhold no love from me,
Fail not to aid what need may be,
For if tomorrow we shall see
We never know.

So keep the pledge and walk the path,
With kind hearts, freed from greed and wrath,
Live now, for what the future hath
We never know.

GLENDALE ART CLUB TO HAVE SOCIAL MEET

Mrs. Roy Ballagh, president of the Glendale Art club, announces that at its social meeting which will be held Friday evening, July 20, in the public library, Mrs. Peter Kratznow, recently from New York, but now a Glendalian, will be the speaker. Her talk will be from the community viewpoint, her theme being "Fine Art or Nothing." In other words she will discuss whether there should be any compromise in art. A community program will be put on by the club later in the year.

Mrs. Ballagh also states that the club is planning to join the Laguna Art association in an August picnic.

The August exhibit of the club will be of more than usual interest and will be confined to California artists. Any artist wishing to exhibit should communicate with Mrs. Ballagh by telephone, her number being Glendale 974-M.

Mrs. Julia Steelman Nichols will deliver a lecture before the Glendale club Sunday afternoon, August 5, on California artists. As she has traveled and studied both at home and abroad, she is especially well qualified to give such a talk.

It will be of interest to know that two local artists, John Cotton and Grayson Sayre, are at the head of a new artists' club, established in Los Angeles and known as "The Salamagundi Club." It is an organization for study.

HOW TO RID YOUR HOME OF VAGRANT ANT

The first duty of every efficient housewife is to make her home clean and comfortable. No matter how immaculate it may be kept, a house can never be comfortable as long as it is overrun with ants. Imagine the chagrin of the hostess who is obliged to suspend the serving of tea to her guests until a flock of ants can be induced to vacate the sugar bowl, or pried loose from the butter.

Such a humiliating experience is entirely unnecessary, because a remedy is available that will not only drive every ant out of a house or store instantly—but which will make them stay out. In fact, its effect upon them is almost unbelievable—as they appear to shun with uncanny dread the spot where the remedy has been applied.

This magic-like preparation can be obtained at any drug store under the name of Kellogg's Ant Paste. It is easily spread with a match or stick wherever ants are accustomed to appear. Just one application and your troubles are over.

To guard against disappointment it would be well not to simply ask for ant paste, but to be sure and specify Kellogg's—which is put up in a patented rattle-cap package.

If you wish to keep books in good condition have open shelves. Glass doors certainly exclude dust, but they are apt to keep in dampness and harbor moths.

ELKS' MIDSUMMER CIRCUS IS GREAT EVENT

In a blaze of glory and fireworks the Elks' Midsummer Circus at Tournament Park, Pasadena, opened Monday night with a crowd of people estimated at about 20,000.

The ceremony of crowning the queen, Miss Vivian Brandenburg, was a gala event and one long to be remembered.

Various free attractions were enjoyed by all, such as Elsie B. Ware (of Mack Sennett fame) and her diving beauties, Harvey Perry in his 50-ft. dive all afire, Rawlings' California Happy Bear Family performance, Spark Plug and Barney Google's pranks, the famous Elks' band concert, the grand display of fireworks and a host of other free entertainment too numerous to mention.

The dancing in the two beautifully illuminated courts was well patronized by the young people, as was also the various concessions such as the circus of trained animals, the King Tut Harem Girls, and a good many other entertaining sideshows.

The Ferris wheel and merry-go-rounds, pony carts and ice cream parlors were well patronized by the children who seemed to enjoy every minute.

The Elks' Midsummer Circus will run every night this week and on Saturday afternoon the finest and biggest rodeo of the year will be held with riders and horses from all over the west participating.

Admission to the park is only 10 cents, and includes all free attractions and the Gay White Way. Parking space for automobiles is unlimited and Tournament Park is easy to reach, located on California street and Wilson avenue.

Gold prizes are being given away every night and $2000 in capital prizes will be given to the lucky ticket holders at the end of the week, first prize being a $1000 Chevrolet sport model equipped with all the latest accessories.

Edythe Sterling, the famous moving picture star arrested for speeding 45 miles an hour through Pasadena, has been released to carry out her engagement with the Elks for this week and will appear every night on her famous white Pinto. She goes back to jail Saturday night to serve the remainder of her seven days' sentence.

BEAUTIFUL BABY GIRL BRINGS JOY TO THE CHRISTYS

A beautiful baby girl arrived at the Glendale sanitarium and hospital at 7:40 p. m., Monday, July 16, 1923. She will make her home with Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Christy. Mrs. Christy was formerly Miss Lena Mae Brice, having spent her girlhood days in Glendale and has a large number of friends who will be glad to know of the new arrival and that mother and babe are doing fine. Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Brice of 304 North Kenwood street are very proud of their first grand daughter.

Once in a great while a man's self-respect keeps him from enjoying life.
